

GET SMART experience @ Bell Trace

BLOOMINGTON'S RECOGNIZED RESOURCE FOR SENIORS

GET SMART is back!

We are kicking off 2019 with a look into the

WHAT DOES A REAL CIA OFFICER ACTUALLY DO?

PRESENTED BY

Gene Coyle,

Retired CIA Spy, former IU Professor and author

How do Hollywood's Jason Bourne, Jack Ryan, and other fictional characters stack up to the real-life CIA spy? Gene Coyle pulls back the curtain to give us an inside view of the life of a CIA officer. Dead drops, recruiting spies, gathering intel; Gene spent over 30 years as a CIA officer with over 14 years in countries ranging from Russia & Kyrgyzstan to Brazil and Greece. This conversation is one you do not want to miss!

Gene came to IU in '69 on an athletic scholarship and received both his BA and MA here. Following a year of study in Hamburg, Germany, he joined the CIA in 1976. He is a recipient of the CIA's Medal of Merit for an operation he conducted in Moscow during the Cold War. Most recently Gene taught courses on national security issues and the history of espionage at IU.

Gene is author of numerous publications and has published seven fictional spy novels.

Thursday,
March 28th
11:30am—1:30pm
Complimentary
Lunch
& Discussion

RSVP BY TUESDAY

March 26th TO:

kadams@cardon.us

Or call
812-332-2355

Brought to you by

800 N Bell Trace
Circle
Bloomington, IN 47408